

Introducing Corva — See It First at NeoCon

This NeoCon, HAT Collective is introducing something new: Corva.

Designed for the evolving workplaces, Corva reimagines the height adjustable base with a refined modern rectangle leg profile, bringing a softer, more contemporary aesthetic to the workstation while maintaining the strength and performance you have come to know HAT Collective for.

But Corva isn't just about looks. It's built with adaptability in mind, designed to evolve alongside changing workspaces and support the technology-driven way we work today.

NeoCon will be the first opportunity to experience Corva in person. And there's even more to see.

HAT Collective is also unveiling our new Chicago showroom in Suite 1078 at the Merchandise Mart, where we'll be showcasing our latest innovations and workspace solutions.

Stop by and be among the first to see Corva.
